Pastor's Corner

June 2016

Pastor Nathan Seckinger

In my own times reading scripture I've been working through Judges! In the second chapter verse ten I came across these words, "But, finally all that generation died, and the next generation did not worship Jehovah as their God and did not care about the mighty miracles he had done for Israel."

Honestly that is a hard verse to read! God had done amazing things, miracles of every kind, provision, victories, healings, and freedom. Yet after one generation the nation of Israel turned their backs on God. They wouldn't worship Jehovah. To me this says we need to really focus on reaching the next generation. We can't assume our kids or grandkids will know who God is. That means we need to have a close walk with God ourselves. We need to pray for our kids and grandkids daily, not just that God would bless them but God would capture their hearts and keep them hungry for Him. It means we really need to make sure we bring our children to worship and children's and youth ministries with the same priority and passion as for school and sports activities.

Then I think we need to tell our children regularly how God has worked in our own lives. We all have stories of God doing miracles in everyday situations. Has God ever provided for you? Has God ever changed a situation you thought impossible? Has God ever given you peace in a hard situation? This month why not make a list of all God has done for you in the past! Then start sharing them with your children and their children. If you don't have kids "adopt" a couple and share God stories with them when you get together!

Don't assume our kids know our Savior and Lord. Take the time to introduce them! Let's do our very best to capture the new generation with the Gospel and the Kingdom of God! Remember God longs to use you!

Also, in the lobby, you will see a VBS table. There is a list of supplies for crafts and snack needed. Check back often as the list changes.

Registration forms can be found on the church website and on the VBS table. Forms can be given to Stacy Miller, Michelle Toy, or mailed in to the church office.

NEIGHBOR 2 NEIGHBOR

Our church, along with Crossroads Church, has agreed to provide the evening meal for the 6-8 interns who will be working with Downtown Ministries on the Neighbor to Neighbor project. This project is hoping to introduce the love of Jesus to many of our youth who are lost. They hope to build relationships with kids and also reach out to parents in our community, to encourage them to become involved with a local church. If you would be willing to provide a meal, please contact Becky Milliron at 724-866-6883 or 724-588-2685. If you are unable to prepare a meal, you could even provide a gift card to a restaurant. Your help would be greatly appreciated.

PRAYER FOR GREENVILLE

Downtown Ministries invites you to meet at Fresh Grounds Coffeehouse every 3rd Tuesday of the month to pray for our community.

We begin at 5:30 PM and pray for about an hour.

We are appealing to our Creator for guidance for what it is that we can do, where and how we should concentrate our efforts. We see needs in our community that are not going away by themselves.

To those who are skeptics, I understand because I used to be also. But now, from the depths of my being, I believe that prayer works. I believe that Fresh Grounds, Sans MOCO and all that is going on at 172 Main Street would not be here if not for prayer.

There is no secret agenda or special program. We circle around, briefly discuss a few current issues and then open the floor to anyone who wants to pray.

We invite you to come and listen, pray along silently or out loud. However it is that you are comfortable.

Nothing is impossible,

Marty Johnson

Ψ Missions Corner...There is Life in this Book

Written by Anonymous

A friend had given him a New Testament before that friend returned to his home country. The successful businessman gladly received the gift, and he promptly put it on a shelf with his other books. It stayed there, unopened for a long time. This man went on with his everyday life, overseeing the work on his land and running his business. He had nice cars, beautiful property, and a growing family. Things were going well for him, yet his heart remained hungry.

One day, he looked at the books on his shelf. He had read all of them but one--and none of his other books had offered the answers and meaning his heart longed for. He picked up the New Testament, and thought, "Why not?" So he began to read.

Immediately, he realized this Book was different from all the others. This Jesus he read about was unique. His teachings! His miracles! His invitation to all who are weary and burdened to come unto Him and find rest for their souls! It was as if Jesus was speaking directly to him! . . . The man read on and on.

When he reached the fourth book of the New Testament, he read, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God" (John 1:1) As he continued reading, he understood that this was talking about Jesus, and he was amazed. He thought, "There is life in this Book!" The Holy Spirit continued to speak to him through the pages of the New Testament, and he gave his life to Christ. Suddenly, all of the things of the world that had meant so much to the man before no longer mattered. He had found life in Jesus--eternal life.

He had to tell the people he cared about. He had to let them know where they could find rest and eternal life as well. He also searched for other believers with whom he could find the kind of fellowship he read about in the New Testament. His search led him to an Alliance church in his country here in the Middle East, where he was welcomed and nurtured in his walk with Christ.

Eventually several in his immediate family joined him in his new-found faith. But many of his other relatives were not so receptive. When it became clear that his life was in danger, he decided to leave his country. He also left behind the cars and land, home and business, but he knew that he now had something far more valuable: a right relationship with his God and Savior. What more could he ask for? Why would he ever trade that for anything else?

In a new country now, trusting the Lord day by day, he continues to tell others of the Life he found in the Book. Please pray for this man who found the Way, the Truth, and the Life as he read the pages of the Bible. Pray for continued boldness and grace as he helps others find the Truth, and for clear leading by the Lord as this man seeks to follow the Lord's will for his life. Pray for others like him throughout the Middle East to also hear and respond to the voice of Jesus when they read the pages of Scripture.

The Shoes

My alarm went off, it was Sunday again. I was tired, it was my one day to sleep in. But the guilt I'd have felt for the rest of the day would have been too much, so I'd go; I'd pray. I showered and shaved, adjusted suit and tie, got there and swung into a pew just in time, bowing my head in humble prayer.

Before I closed my eyes, I saw that the shoe of the man next to me was touching my own and I sighed. With plenty of room on either side, I thought, "why do our soles have to touch?" It bothered me so, he was glued to my shoe, but it didn't seem to bother him much. Then the prayer began: "Heavenly Father," someone said — but I thought, "Does this man with the shoes have no pride?" They were dusty, worn, scratched end to end. What's worse, there were holes on the side!

"Thank you for blessings," the prayer went on. The shoe man said a quiet "amen." I tried to focus on the prayer, but my thoughts were on his shoes again. Aren't we supposed to look our best when walking through that door? "Well, this certainly isn't it," I thought, glancing toward the floor.

Then the prayer ended and songs of praise began. The shoe man was loud, sounding proud as he sang. He lifted the rafters; his hands raised high, the Lord surely heard his voice from the sky.

Then the offering was passed, what I threw in was steep. The shoe man reached into his pockets, so deep, and I tried to see what he pulled out to put in, then I heard a soft "clink" as when silver hits tin.

The sermon bored me to tears and no lie — it was the same for the shoe man, for tears fell from his eyes.

At the end of the service, as is custom here, we must greet the visitors and show them good cheer. But I was moved inside to want to meet this man so after the closing, I shook his hand.

He was old, his skin dark, his hair a mess. I thanked him for coming, for being our guest. He said, "My name's Charlie, glad to meet you, my friend." And there were tears in his eyes but he had a wide grin. "Let me explain," he said, wiping his eyes. "I've been coming for months and you're the first to say, "Hi." I know I don't look like all the rest, but I always try to look my best. I polish my shoes before my long walk but by the time I get here they're as dirty as chalk."

My heart fell to my knees but I held back my tears. He continued, "And I must apologize for sitting so near but I know when I get here, I must look a sight, and I thought . . . If I touch you, our souls might unite."

I was silent for a moment knowing anything I said would pale by comparison, so I spoke from my heart, not my head. "Oh, you've touched me," I said. "And taught me, in part, that the best of a man is what's in his heart." The rest, I thought, this man will never know . . . How thankful I am that he touched my soul!
